

ISPS HANDA Women's Scottish Open

Saturday, July 26, 2025

Ayrshire, Scotland, UK

Dundonald Links

Hye-Jin Choi

Quick Quotes

want to win, too. So just keep trying more tomorrow and then I will do next week, too, yeah.

FastScripts by ASAP Sports

Q. After your third round here at the ISPS Handa Women's Scottish Open. Solid 7-under from you today. What worked well for you out there?

HYE-JIN CHOI: I mean, today was bogey-free round, so it was pretty solid. Then my shot was really good today. So better than last two days. So that's why I play really well, yeah.

Q. How much of the conditions you had out on the course today, obviously a little nicer than yesterday, at least. Just how much of that leaned into some of your success out there?

HYE-JIN CHOI: I mean, last two days, my condition was not really good. I feel uncomfortable with my shot. So I was thinking, how can I hit it like this course. But I just hit it and I try, oh, how can I do -- hit it some? I got some loose shots. I tried today but it was really a lot of work.

Q. Not a lot of bogey-free rounds out there. How tough was it to go bogey-free today?

HYE-JIN CHOI: I mean, bogey-free round is always you play well. But this course is, I feel, if I keep it in the fairway, it's more good for playing. That's why I play very well, yeah.

Q. What is your experience with links golf?

HYE-JIN CHOI: Not my favourite courses but it's a little challenging this course. So sometimes some weather is really different. But I'm getting better to like this course and I'm trying more, I think.

Q. How good is it to have a round like this and moving up the leaderboard heading into the final major of the year next week?

HYE-JIN CHOI: Yeah, next week is our last major. So I don't really play well that tournament, but this tournament, I

